PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—A woman named Mary Coats died suddenly yesterday afternoon in the house of Thos. McArdle, corner of Main and Harrison streets. According to custom in cases of this nature, the body was taken to the Morgue. Both of the woman's eyes were found to be blackened; her face bore other marks of ill-usage.

Miss Jennie White, school teacher at San Pablo, who was run over by a runaway horse on Sacramento street, on Saturday, died at San Pablo yesterday afternoon of her injuries. The father of this young lady, Alexander White, has had more than his share of afflictions. He came to California by the Nicaragua route and was accompanied by his wife, two daughters and son. The filibustering troubles were at their height when he passed through Nicaragua. During one engagement his wife and one of his daughters were both killed by stray balls. His son had part of his foot taken off. Jennie was his sole surviving daughter.

An attempt at assassination occurred about 4 o'clock this morning in a lodging house, No. 515 Sacramento street. A room in the house is occupied jointly by two young men, named James E. F. Paddock and Patrick C. Harrington, both employed in a restaurant and, previous to this occurrence, were the best of friends. At a late hour last night Paddock returned from Cliff House with a young girl, and sought to introduce his disreputable associate into the lodging house. Harrington was requested to vacate the room, which he indignantly declined to do, and reproached Paddock of the scandal he was bringing on the house. The latter finally retired with his companion, swearing vengeance. After his departure Harrington fell asleep. About 4 in the morning, Paddock returned, and, entering the room stealthily, he drew a pistol and commenced firing at Harrington while he was asleep. Four shots were discharged, and the balls in each instance struck close to Harrington's body, but owing to the drunken aim of his roommate, he escaped unharmed. Shooting was heard by an officer, who rushed into the house and went in search of Paddock. The scoundrel had secreted himself in another room. When the officer discovered him he was engaged in reloading his pistol. He was disarmed after some resistance, and taken into custody, vowing he would take Harrington's life. Paddock now awaits examination in the Police Court on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The Pacific Mail steamer Vancouver arrived from Hongkong and Yokohama to-night, bringing 303 passengers and 2,250 tons of merchandise, of which 1,002 are for New York via Panama. The Vancouver left Hongkong October 28th, arriving at Yokohama November 8th; sailed thence November 9th. Had squally weather to the 15th of November; on the 16th, heavy gale from eastward, shifting to S. W., blowing hurricane with tremendous sea; on November 18th, violent gale from W. N. W., shipped heavy seas and lost quarter boat from davits; thence to port had light easterly and northwesterly winds. The news by the Vancouver is unimportant, and mostly anticipated by telegraph.

Run Over by the Cars.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Yesterday afternoon an elderly lady, Mrs. Brown, attempted to cross the railroad track at Encinal station, Alameda county, with two children. A passenger train was already under way before Mrs. Brown had crossed the track, and the locomotive was close upon her. The driver of the locomotive attempted to check the train, but his efforts were not successful, and the lady was knocked down, the wheels of the cars passing over her leg, severing it completely. The children escaped unhurt. Mrs. Brown's injury is of such a nature that there is no hope of her recovery.

Interior California.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—The Southern District Agricultural Society will put up a $6,000 club house at the Park.

The Senator will hereafter only stop at Santa Barbara in her trips between San Francisco and Wilmington.

A fourth municipal ticket is in the field. The election takes place next Monday.

The celebrated Newman damage case for resisting and wounding the Sheriff's deputy, to recover $21,000, now on trial, closes to-night in the District Court.

A Shocking Casualty.

STOCKTON, Nov. 30. — Lewis H. Graves, freight conductor, in the employ of the Central Pacific Railroad, met with a fearful death to-day about two miles west of this city. It appears that in passing from a box car to a flat he slipped and fell down between the cars to the track, and, it is supposed, must have fallen across the rail, as the whole train passed over him. He was picked up in a fearfully mangled condition and brought to this city, where he soon afterwards expired. Deceased was about 24 years of age. His relatives reside in Wisconsin. The Coroner will hold an inquest to-morrow morning.

NEVADA.

Severe Earthquake Shocks.

WINNEMUCCA, Nov. 30.—Several shocks of earthquake visited this place and surrounding country yesterday morning between 6 and 7 o'clock, the first occurring a few minutes after 6, and was quite severe, and shook things up very lively, clocks were stopped by the vibration, and in one instance we have learned of a stovepipe being displaced. Plastered buildings were racked, and the plastering cracked in all directions. The Court House suffered the worst of any in town. The plastering in the second story is badly broken, and in the court room portions fell to the floor. We have learned that several wells in town which furnished plenty of water the evening previous, were found totally dry soon after the earthquake occurred, and have remained dry ever since. In the mines in Winnemucca mountain the miners report having felt eight distinct shocks, two very severe ones, at intervals of about 15 minutes.

ARIZONA.

WICKENBURG, Nov. 30.—E. D. Farley, reported missing a few weeks ago, supposed to have been killed by Indians while on a prospecting tour, turned up Saturday evening all right. The excuse he had was on account of the poor development of the mineral resources. He met several bands of Apaches and Mojaves hunting deer beyond the limits prescribed. The four citizens, who started out two weeks ago on a second search for Farley, have not returned.

A POINT OF PRACTICE.

[From the New York Times, Nov. 5.]

A motion for a new trial in the case of the United States against Messrs. Polhamus & Jackson was argued in the United States Circuit Court yesterday before Judge Shipman. The readers of the Times will remember that this suit was brought by the United States to recover $500,000 alleged to have been received by the defendants, to be used in speculations in Wall street, from Major J. L. Hodge, a paymaster in the United States Army, they knowing at the time that the funds so received belonged to the Government. Mr. Tremain, the United States Assistant District Attorney, moved that the verdict be set aside on the Judge's minutes, and claimed that the verdict given by the jury was against the weight of evidence, and that there had been other inaccuracies calculated to mislead the jury. Mr. Tremain also argued that, according to common law, the court had a right to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. Mr. Roger A. Pryor, the counsel for the defense, said that a motion to set aside a verdict on the Judge's minutes was unknown to the Federal Courts. If there were errors of law a bill of exceptions might be filed. The case had been tried by a most intelligent jury, and if their verdict were set aside, what would be the use of a jury trial? The Judge took the papers and reserved his decision.

THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE GOVERNMENT OF 1840.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

The recent elections have been characterized by an unusual number of instances in which the voting was close, so that the candidate on one or the other side is elected or defeated by a very small plurality. In New Jersey, it is said, Mr. William Walter Phelps fails of reelection by four or five votes. In our own State similar cases in the legislative elections are attracting attention. Such cases are almost inevitably attended by questions with reference to the proper mode of dealing with votes which are found to be incorrect in some particular, not designating with perfect accuracy and completeness the candidate for whom they are apparently thrown.

The famous case which occurred in Massachusetts at the State election of 1839, when Marcus Morton was elected Governor by precisely the number of votes necessary to a choice, was attended by similar cases of faulty or imperfect designation. The votes were counted by a large joint committee of the Legislature of 1840, in both houses of which the Whigs had a majority. The late James Savage, of Boston, was Chairman of the Committee. It was nevertheless determined to give to the Democrats the benefit of every doubt. The subjoined extracts from the report of the Committee show the manner in which they dealt with the subject. They reported that—

The whole number of votes was	102,066
Necessary for a choice	51,034
Marcus Morton had	51,034
Edward Everett had	50,725
All others had	307

The Committee unanimously agreed that every name of a candidate apparently spelled wrong should be corrected,—as Morcus or Macus to be called Marcus; and Edwood, Edward; and to apply the same principle to surnames, in order to protect the probable error of the return by the probable design of the voter. One vote, however, returned from Nantucket, for Marcus Malton or Matton, was the subject of careful inquiry, and was put down in the list of scattering, though not without division in the Committee. "Returns were received from every town in the Commonwealth; but from the district called Boston Corner no return was received. Every vote in each of the said returns is counted in the foregoing statement of the whole number."

It should be observed that none of the returns were rejected, although some of them disclosed a neglect to comply with all of the formalities required by law with regard to the method of attesting, sealing, or delivering them.

At this election there was no choice of Lieutenant-Governor by the people; the whole vote was 101,973, making 50,987 necessary for a choice. George Hull, who was on the ticket with Mr. Everett, had 50,751; Nathan Wills, who was on the ticket with Mr. Morton, had 50,507; John W. Brown had 204, and Amasa Walker had 107. According to the provisions of the Constitution at that time, the House of Representatives selected from these four names two to be sent to the Senate. The names selected were George Hull and Nathan Wills. The Senate made choice of George Hull.

The other State officers (at that time there were only two, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Treasurer) were also filled by the choice of Whigs; and the whole number of Counselors who were chosen were likewise Whigs; these elections being made at that time by the two Houses of the Legislature in Convention, and the Whigs having (as we have said) a majority in each branch. Daniel P. King was President of the Senate and Robert C. Winthrop was Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The State Government of 1840 therefore resembled that which will come into power next year in the circumstance that, while the Governor belonged to one party, the Lieutenant-Governor, State officers, Council, and a majority of both Houses of the Legislature were in the control of the other party.

THE SPIRIT OF THE VICTORS.

SELMA, Ala., Nov. 8.—An immense mass meeting was held Friday night to celebrate the Democratic victory. The following resolutions, introduced by Wm. Brooks, one of the most prominent Democrats in Alabama and President of the Secession Convention in 1860, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the people of Alabama, rejoicing at the restoration of the fraternal feeling between the States of the American Union, as manifested in the recent elections, and assured that the second century of our national existence will be an era of unparalleled progress, harmony, and unity in the work of achieving the grand destiny of the American people, send their happy greetings to their sister States, and unite with them in rendering to Almighty God thanks for the signal redemption of Alabama and the entire country from misrule and corruption.

Resolved, That we embrace the present moment of triumph as the appropriate occasion to renew to the country the pledges contained in the resolutions of our Democratic and Conservative platform, and especially that the rights of all classes of men must be respected and preserved inviolate.

The grandest political demonstration ever witnessed in Selma took place last night. The city was illuminated and a torchlight procession nearly a mile in length passed through the streets. Guns were fired, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. Distinguished speakers addressed crowds of people.

EXIT BUTLER.

[New York Times.]

Nowhere was the news of the downfall of Butlerism received with more joyous demonstrations than in the Congressional district so long represented by Butler himself. The General had doubtless perceived, for some days before the election, a singular lack of enthusiasm whenever he reappeared before those who had once welcomed him with stormiest applause. The shadows of coming events seemed to have cast a gloom upon the tempers of the bluff fishermen of Gloucester and Marblehead, and Salem was cold and indifferent. Possibly the redoubtable statesman, in the serenity of his mistaken confidence, fancied that the grimness and reservation manifested were born of determination to win the fight for him; he did not imagine that they sprang from motives of disgust. He felt assured that whatever misfortunes might overwhelm all other candidates, he, at least, would be elevated once more to the Congressional pedestal, from whose secure height he has so long defied and scorned the moral sentiment of the American people. Busy with a thousand plans for the future abasement of all who have dared to do battle against him, and with the most villainous abuse of the courageous citizens of his own district who dared to tell him what they thought of him, his defeat found him unprepared for a reverse, and sent him staggering under discomfiture such as rarely overtakes a beaten candidate.

Says a Boston dispatch: The navy yard at this station is also to be investigated, and it will be seen whether there is any truth in the stories that a large amount of Government property has been carried of by employes, also, whether Gen. Butler got the ballast of the yacht America changed at a cost of $780, and on receiving the bill, presented an order to the Secretary of the Navy, the Hon. Geo. M. Robeson, for the work. The discharge of the disloyal barbers and shoemakers who voted for Banks, when hired to vote for Gooch, began to-day, when it was suddenly discovered that the yard could get along with 300 less men.

This is the way the Shreveport (La.) Times mentions the proceedings of Gen. Merrill, who had command of the military forces in the vicinity of Shreveport about election time:

On the Sunday night before the election, Claverhouse Merrill attempted to cross the river at midnight with a squad of cavalry to perpetrate some piece of villainy, but the absence of the ferryboat put a period to his enterprise for that night. Daylight, however, gave him an opportunity to proceed upon his mission of outrage.

SIR ROGER TICHBORNE.

JUST WHAT BECAME OF HIM—THE STORY OF THE MAN WHO BURIED HIM ON A SOUTH SEA ISLAND.

[From the Honolulu Advertiser.]

Stranger things have happened than that a solution of the mystery which hangs about the death of Sir Roger Tichborne should be discovered in these Islands. A correspondent of the Advertiser, writing from Hilo, under date of the 22d October, thinks he has discovered in that district the man who saw Sir Roger die, and who buried him on Sydney island, in the South Pacific ocean. This island lies southeast from the island of Rotumah, 200 to 300 miles, and is occasionally visited by vessels in quest of biche de mer. Geo. Claridge is the name of the man who claims to have seen the last of Tichborne. He is a person of limited education, being able to read but little and cannot write; he is an Englishman, and so far as our correspondent is aware, bears a good name. Recently, in looking at the engravings of the Tichborne family in some numbers of the Illustrated News, he pointed at that of Sir Roger and exclaimed, "That is the man whom I buried on Sydney island!" The following is his statement: Like many others of his class in the Pacific, he had drifted about from one island to another, and in 1854, as near as he can remember, he left a ship at Rotumah. After he had been on that island some time, a schooner named the Annie, engaged in the biche de mer fishery called there. On going on board, Claridge found that she was just out from home, and that off the river Platte she had picked up a boat containing two men in a famishing condition, and they were then on board the schooner. The master of the schooner, who was a Frenchman, told Claridge that one of the rescued men was an English gentleman, very sick, and that he spoke French as well as himself. Claridge engaged to go in the schooner to take care of a sick gentleman and to help get a cargo. He thinks this was the early part of 1855, but does not remember distinctly. The vessel, he believes, was American, but he remembers no particulars about her, nor the names of any of the crew. Five days after leaving Rotumah, they reached Sydney Island, where they found no inhabitants, and plenty of biche de mer. Claridge with some natives of Rotumah went ashore to pursue the fishery, and the sick gentleman at his own request was also put on shore, with everything the vessel afforded to add to his comfort. The schooner sailed away, intending to return in a short time, but Claridge has heard no tidings of her from that day to this, and conjectures that she was lost. He was two years on the island before it was again visited by a vessel. For some time after landing on the island, the sick gentleman said but little to any one, but as he got worse he called Claridge to him, and told him that he was near his end, and requested him to procure a quill from one of the wild birds that frequented the Island, to make a pen of. He had a scrap of paper in which had been wrapped a bit of cheese from the schooner, and on this, with blood from a bird, he wrote something. This paper he gave to Claridge and told him to keep it and [illegible] that [illegible] to have it copied; to keep the original himself, but by all means to make it public whenever he got to a civilized land. He then informed Claridge that his name was Roger Tichborne. This happened the tenth or twelfth day after landing on the island. After this the sick man was frequently delirious until he died, about the eighteenth day after landing. In his lucid moments he stated that he sailed from Rio in a ship deeply loaded, that she went down in a squall, and that himself and seven others got into a boat, which drifted about until all perished except himself and one other, who were 40 days in the boat before being picked up. He said that if he could get to Hongkong he should find plenty of friends and money. In his delirium he frequently spoke of his father, with whom he appeared to have quarreled, and he often fancied himself talking to his mother, whom he addressed in French. Claridge kept the paper as directed, and showed it to the captain of the ship who eventually took him from the island, but it met with no attention. After getting to Wellington Island, a New Bedford boy, named Mendell, copied a part of the writing (some of it being in French), but Claridge does not know what disposition he made of it. Claridge kept the original until eight years ago, when it was lost with other papers by the upsetting of a boat. Such is the plain, and, it appears to us, probable story of the man who believes that he buried Sir Roger Tichborne. Many of our readers have doubtless become familiar with the remarkable trial in the court of common pleas at Westminster, in 1871, entitled Tichborne vs. Lushington, and the no less remarkable second trial of the "claimant" and his conviction for perjury in 1873. Sir Roger, it will be remembered, left Europe in March, 1852, for Valparaiso. Arriving there in the course of time, he traveled across the continent to Rio de Janeiro, whence he took passage for New York in the month of April, 1854. That ship, called the Bella, is believed to have foundered at sea, the owners and underwriters having treated her as lost, but no tidings were ever heard as to the fate of her crew except that one boat identified as belonging to the Bella, was met with at sea, with no one on board. The "claimant," it will be remembered, stated in his affidavit that the Bella sprung a leak and was abandoned on the fourth day out from Rio, and that himself and eight of the crew, after being three days and nights in the boat, were picked up by a vessel called the Osprey, and landed at Melbourne in July, 1854.

THE LOUISIANA TROUBLES.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—Twenty men of Company B, 3d Infantry, Capt. Head in command, left here yesterday morning for Lincoln Parish. It is said that a body of cavalry have been ordered from Shreveport to the same parish. The purpose is not known.

Marshal Selye and Lieut. Hodgson, arrested for contempt of Judge Trimble's Court, have reached Vienna, and are awaiting the Judge's action.

Sheriff Kavanagh of Jackson arrested D. M. Jewett, United States Commissioner, yesterday morning, upon a warrant issued by Judge Trimble, based upon an indictment found by the Grand Jury of Jackson for kidnapping Dr. Louis Sholars. Jewett furnished a bond in the sum of $10,000. It is said that Marshal Selye will also be arrested when released upon a warrant from Jackson, and that he will be held to answer for cutting the telegraph wires, and other violations of the laws.

MONROE, La., Nov. 8.—Lieut. Hodgson and Selye appeared before Judge Trimble at Vienna this morning, charged with contempt of court in disregarding the writ of habeas corpus issued by the court. They were sentenced to be imprisoned ten days, and each to pay a fine of $100, together with the costs of their arrest. At the expiration of their term of imprisonment for this offense they will be proceeded against for the cutting of the telegraph wires. Sheriff Kavanagh of Jackson left yesterday morning for Vienna to arrest Selye on a warrant based upon an indictment against him for kidnapping Dr. Sholars. It is rumored that pardons have been forwarded by Gov. Kellogg for Selye and Hodgson.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—Judge Trimble urges the Governor to recall the pardons issued in the cases of Selye and Lieut. Hodgson, for the reason that their conduct in several instances was outrageous and oppressive, and the citizens, feeling that they have been outraged by these persons, are indignant at their course while scouring the country. The Judge is satisfied that if the law is permitted to take its course, not only in the case of their contempt in disobeying his order, but also in cutting the telegraph wires, and the assault with a pistol on Mrs. Patterson, and other cases, the people will abide the action of the Court; but if they are pardoned and turned at liberty he is of the opinion that they could not leave the country unmolested, so great would be the feeling against them. There is much excitement in Northern Louisiana, and a full determination on the part of the citizens to assist Judge Trimble in carrying out the law.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Nov. 29, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The week just closed has had two Sundays, and one of them blue at that, or apparently so. The second Sunday was Thanksgiving Day—"Grant's day," some have irreverently called it. The day was pretty generally observed, to the fatality of the turkeys and chickens, the turkeys being greatly in the majority. For the purpose of promoting harmony among the different denominations, a union service was held in the First Presbyterian church which was participated in by all except the Catholics and Episcopalians.

A few days ago I visited the

FRUIT DRYING ESTABLISHMENT

Which has been erected in this city by a company, who are now drying fruit by the Alden process. The company have built a commodious and substantial building in which have been erected four furnaces, but only two are at present operated. As the second day's operation, there were dried 300 pounds, although the operators were not practical workmen. The fruit is remarkably white, and retains to an astonishing degree the natural flavor, which, in fruit dried in the old way, is lost. The company are now buying a large quantity of apples and pears for the purpose of making a practical test of the enterprise and supplying at least the local market. That Oregon can supply herself and sister States and Territories is evident, and that this is a much needed process to save our fruit is apparent to all.

Mr. Postmaster Rickey having obtained leave of the Postal Department to fit up a more commodious

POSTOFFICE

Which has been needed for some time, a large room has been obtained in a brick building opposite the Chemeketa House, and will be finished up in the latest and most convenient style.

By arrangement of the Faculty of the University in this city, Rev. Thos. Condon, the

STATE GEOLOGIST,

Has been employed to deliver a thorough course of lectures before the students, and public, which is drawing large and appreciative audiences. Mr. Condon, as all know, is an enthusiast on this subject, and has done more to read the geological history of Oregon than any other man that has ever been in the State; and it is a good thing that the last Legislature, who were running on economy, did not abolish the office of State Geologist, although an effort was made for that purpose.

NAVIGATION.

Since the river has risen sufficiently for steamboats, our town has [illegible] up. The steam whistle can be heard answering the locomotive, and the amount of freight that both sources transport is really astonishing. The amount of wheat that is awaiting shipment is equal to, if not more than that of last year; consequently it will be some time before the entire crop will be moved.

For the purpose of developing the latent eloquence of the average American a

DEBATING SOCIETY

Has been organized, consisting of lawyers, doctors, politicians and others who have the time and inclination to spout, and the society promises to be a live institution. It will probably run during the winter.

POLITICAL.

The little political pot of Salem's annual city election has commenced to boil with considerable fury already, and the number of men who are willing to sacrifice themselves for their fellow-citizens' good is really astonishing. They work for the position with the same ardor with which some of the Federal officers of this State are urging the cause of Grant for the third term, because they are interested in the result. The Independents have held their convention already and a ticket is brought out, but it does not altogether give satisfaction, as all of the nominees but one are out-and-out Democrats, and it is evident that if the latter party had the numerical strength they would not for a moment entertain any proposition to divide the offices, as it is well known that the average Democrat is as fond of office and as willing to have official cares placed on his shoulders as any other "community" in the universe. The Republican convention has been called and in due time a full ticket will be brought out, and then the fur will fly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Work has been resumed on the brick church of the Methodist denomination, and the basement is nearly completed, while the brickwork of two of the gable ends has been finished and the roof extended considerably. When the church will be finally finished it will be an ornament to this City of Churches.

Breyman Bros., who built a fine store on the corner of Commercial and Court streets, have moved into their new quarters and are opening out in good style.

From conversations with farmers of this and Polk county, I gather that there has been a large breadth of fall wheat sown and the fields look remarkably well. '47.

PUBLIC OPINION.

THE MORAL OF IT.

[From the Boston Advertiser; Rep.]

Massachusetts is Republican to-day, but not Butler-Republican—nor, as it seems, Grant-Republican.

THE "OTHER SIMMONS" TAKES HIS REVENGE.

[From the Boston Advertiser, Rep.]

Mr. Samuel Simmons celebrated the defeat of the hated Butler in a peculiar way yesterday. He took a carriage and placed on either side a large placard inscribed, "Who will crush Brother Sam now?" With a look of defiance and exultation he drove slowly past Butler's office in Pemberton square. He then drove to the Custom House in triumph, and paid his respects to his quondam associates by going around that building several times, and in a way that was very exasperating to many of the "fallen ones" serving therein. He then drove through many of the principal streets to Charlestown and back.

NO HOPE OF A REPUBLICAN RESUSCITATION.

[From the St. Louis Republican, Ind.]

Like all organizations builded upon fraud and falsehood, the Republican party's downfall has been sudden and crushing. It has stood for years an immense hollow shell, needing but the punching of a few holes in it to crumble into fragments. It is not too much to assume that the Republican party of yesterday—the party of salary grabs and Credit Mobiliers and press gags—the party of bribery and forgery and perjury—the party of dragonnades and midnight raids upon defenseless citizens—the party of Shepherd rings and Custom House rings; the party of Sanborn moiety swindles and Jayne customs revenue blackmailings; the party of monopolies and subsidies and land grants and grabs; the party of Butler, Cameron, of Chandler, of Williams, of Pomeroy, of Harlan, of Patterson, of Hipple-Mitchell, of Poland and of Carpenter; in fine, the party of all imaginable men and things that are infamous and odious; it is not too much to assume that this Republican party never can be resuscitated as a controlling power in American politics. Its sole prestige was in its power.

COLONIZED VOTERS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—Boston, Nov. 20.—The Massachusetts Labor Council state that they have proof of the hiring of 750 men during two weeks preceding the election, at an expense to the Government of $1,500 per day, most of whom were discharged after the election; that the recommendation for hiring these men was signed by Congressman Gooch, and that the additional force had little, if anything, to do. The Council recommends that the statement be submitted, through the Massachusetts representative, to the Senate and House, and that a special Committee be appointed.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: "Prospecting for cinnabar is the exciting pastime of the loose-footed in this region. Rich ledges are supposed to be near here as much rich float ore is picked up by miners. The existence of some ledges is demonstrated."

The Coos News says: We learn that considerable wheat is being shipped from Scottsburg to Gardiner, to be reshipped to San Francisco by sailing vessels. The steamer Argo, Capt. Wade, towed down two large scow loads of wheat last week, and has several more loads awaiting her in the warehouse at Scottsburg.

At the Baker City election on Friday, Nov. 20th, the following persons were elected: For Trustees, G. J. Bowman, J. A. Reid, J. H. Parker, S. B. McCord and S. Greer. For Treasurer—Sam Ottenheimer. For Recorder—R. H. Cardwell. All Democrats except S. Greer, who, although not a Democrat, is a first-rate man. The Democrat says: "For the office of City Marshal there was a tie, but Wm. Constable received two majority to count none but the legal votes, and as a matter of justice and of right the Trustees, who have to decide this matter, will give the office to Wm. Constable."

The Coos County Record of the 26th ult. says: "A terrific storm, the severest in several years, began last Sunday, culminating about 4 o'clock A. M., Monday. The wind blew almost a hurricane from the west at first, then gradually varying till it came from the southeast. Ever and anon the rain [illegible] in torrents. Considerable damage was done at Empire City. Marshfield is too well sheltered to suffer under such circumstances. At the former place the tin roof on the building occupied by the drug store, Custom House and Coos Bay News, was torn suddenly from the building and carried completely over Mr. Luse's store, a distance of nearly 100 feet. Mr. Turpin's logs which were moored between Whitney's and Luse's wharves, broke from its boom sticks and were widely scattered, a portion collecting under Mr. Luse's wharf, where the efforts of several men were required to keep them from breaking the wharf. The pile driving scow was filled and partially capsized, and the mill wharf was broken down in two places. Several hundred logs escaped from the boom sticks at the mill. Mr. Luse's damage will reach probably six or seven hundred dollars, and Mr. Turpin, whose misfortunes have not come singly, will lose perhaps as much."

THE TERRITORIES.

In Walla Walla, 613 votes were cast at the recent election; in Seattle, 523; in Olympia, 391; in Steilacoom, 216; in Tacoma, 174; in Port Townsend, 160; in Tumwater, 78.

The petitions for a daily mail service on the Sound are receiving many signatures, and something will probably result from the movement yet. No harm, at least, can result, and much good may. Sign, everybody.

The Idaho Penitentiary has a strong cell set apart for Moses Thatcher, the priestly land stealer of that Territory. The Salt Lake paper says his trial will result in conviction, the evidence being conclusive against him.

The National Bank building and fixtures at Salt Lake City were recently sold to Walker Bros., a large mercantile firm at that place. The bank suspended a few weeks ago, but the purchasers of the establishment will resume.

The military authorities of Arizona have in no wise abated the vigor of the policy pursued towards such Apaches as have, after four years' acquaintance with the views of the Government concerning them, derided and contemned the terms upon which alone we and they know peace between whites and Indians in Arizona can ever be permanently established.

A man named Wm. Stone was drowned in the Tacoma river, on Wednesday of last week, about five miles above its mouth. He was attempting to cross the river in a skiff, and somehow lost control of his frail vessel, which drifted rapidly down with the powerful, eddying current of the stream. The boat soon brought up against a temporary drift, in trying to get away from which Stone overturned his skiff, and he and it were swept under. The boat came up from the lower side of the drift, but Stone has never been seen since.

The Tribune says: "A grand potlatch will be given this week, or soon after, on the reservation side of the bay, opposite the Tacoma sawmill. A shed, or house, 100 feet long, is being erected there by Indians for this purpose, so we are informed. One old Indian buck has $800 and a klootchman $400, in giving away which, on this coming grand occasion, they will crown their lives with the brightest glory imaginable to the Indian mind. Some twelve or fifteen hundred natives are expected to be present, from all parts of the country, but principally from the reservations of Tacoma, Tulalip, Port Madison, Skokomish, Squaxom and Nisqually.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

MEXICO, Nov. 30.—The municipality of the State of San Luis Potosi has issued an order to encourage colonization, giving to each colonist gratis a plot of ground suitable for cultivation, also ground and materials for the erection of a habitation.

Numerous deposits of silver, quicksilver, and cinnabar, have been discovered in the State of Guerrero. A gold placer was found a short distance from Mazatlan on Oct. 1, samples of which have been sold at $14 and $16 per ounce. On the 7th and 12th subterranean noises were heard and severe shocks of earthquake felt by the workmen at the placer. These disturbances were accompanied by the ejection of several columns of sulphurous crystalline water, exhaling an infectious odor. The volume of water has since been steadily augmenting.

PROF. SEELYE'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

In Thursday's OREGONIAN we made mention of the very "irregular" manner in which Prof. Julius H. Seelye, of Amherst College, was elected to Congress from the 10th Massachusetts District. Here is his letter of acceptance:

"The nomination and election which you are pleased to communicate to me in the same letter I have, as you well know, neither sought nor desired: I cannot, however, refuse a trust so important as this, and which has come in a way so [illegible], but though I accept it with reluctance, I am not insensible to your own unselfish efforts to secure the result which has been reached, nor to the measure of public confidence in me which this election discloses. I shall be grateful if you never find cause to regret the course you have taken or the choice which the district has made."

WOMAN'S WORK FOR WOMAN.

Many persons of intelligence, many even, who are in some sort making a specialty of the problem of improving the condition of woman, know nothing of the workings of the Woman's Educational and Industrial Society of New York; and yet that organization accomplishes, perhaps, more for the class of women who stand in greatest need than any other in the United States. It is not engaged in agitating the important question of extending the right of suffrage to women, nor in the [illegible] of those other views and theories which unfortunately for the cause of female suffrage, have generally attached themselves to that cause. Its work, though in the end it may tend to the same result, is of an entirely different kind, and looks to immediate results of an entirely different nature. It has for its object the training of young women whose circumstances compel them to earn their own livings, in those industries that are deemed best calculated to assist them in making their way in the world. The Society has been in operation but a short time—less than two years if we are correctly informed,—and in that time it has proved a most efficient helper to women dependent on their own exertions for the means of subsistence. In the spring of 1873, after the plan of operation had been fully discussed and weighed, the Society opened rooms called Training Schools, for the instruction of women and girls in such work as they would be likely to have to do, admitting without charge, all who came, without respect to nationality or religion, the [illegible] being that the applicant must be dependent on her own labor for her support. During the year ending April 1, 1874, 3,000 women and girls were admitted to the privileges of [illegible] schools. Most of these—about 2,300—were [illegible] as seamstresses. The time requisite to acquire sufficient skill with the [illegible] purposes is but short and many adopt that occupation [illegible] not afford the time necessary to learn other trades. Thus an occupation that is already overcrowded and which [illegible] wages far too low, is forced upon [illegible] who would prefer some other. But to enter the [illegible] of such a life, prepared [illegible] ing, is certainly better than to [illegible] without such preparation. And [illegible] aid still further those who have received instruction from the Society, arrangements have been effected with some of the large manufactories for work for the new beginners. They are paid by the piece for this work, and begin to earn wages before leaving the school. In view of the crowded condition of the branch of business to which so many women are driven by [illegible] of circumstances, [illegible] was determined by the Society to give special attention to [illegible] other branches of [illegible] more complete [illegible] also, and practical instruction is now given in bookkeeping, [illegible] and telegraphy, and [illegible]. Measures have also been taken to turn the attention of the girls to housework, and arrangements are made for lectures on domestic economy [illegible] of common sense to housekeeping. For the [illegible] branch of training a complete department has been [illegible] by the Society, with suitable rooms and apparatus.

For the moral and intellectual culture of those attending the schools a small select library of some 200 volumes and a piano have been placed in the spacious reading room, and every Thursday evening there are [illegible] lectures, readings, recitations, &c.

All this noble work is carried on by voluntary contributions of philanthropic people. The teachers are mostly volunteers, many of them members of the Society. The piano—a Steinway—is a gift from the makers, and the books in the library were purchased with a fund donated specially for that purpose. Whatever articles are made by the pupils for the Society are given to the poor or to the cause of [illegible] so that the efforts of the Society in carrying its primary object re[illegible] p other charities. [illegible] is too high to be bestowed upon the women who organized and are sustaining so grand a work for their unfortunate sisters. We do not inquire much about the creed of people who are found in such Christian work; [illegible] Christianity is above creeds.

[illegible] CONSTITUTION.

The New Orleans Picayune, in speaking of the amendments recently adopted to the Constitution of Louisiana, pronounces them unimportant, and says they merely add some trifling details to the provisions of a Constitution radically defective and vicious. The Picayune says the welfare of the people of the State demands that a Convention be called to frame a new Constitution, as the old one is such a miserable [illegible] tinkering will make it acceptable. Among the radical changes which are demanded, the following are [illegible]:

1. The denial to the Legislature of the power to pass private and local bills.
2. The prohibition of charters to private corporations.
3. The [illegible] upon appropriations.
4. The extension of the power of veto in the Governor to any clause of a bill, instead of the whole bill.
5. The ineligibility to the Legislature of all persons holding Federal, State or municipal offices.
6. The restoration of all its chartered rights and [illegible] of the corporation of New Orleans.
7. [illegible] prohibiting [illegible] of bonds to corporations or individuals.

Some of these provisions, as for instance, those relating to the granting of charters to private corporations, and that concerning the issuing of bonds to corporations or individuals—the latter of which is doubtless stated too broadly—are sound and wholesome provisions for any community. But it occurs to us that the denial to the Legislature of the power to pass local laws on any subject would be found exceedingly embarrassing, in many [illegible] principles are being incorporated into the Constitutions of other States. We have no recollection of noticing in any State Constitution a prohibition of the passage of any local law.

ENTER BROOKS.

It will be too bad if, after all the efforts of Volney Smith, he is denied the Governorship of Arkansas, and one of the [illegible] in [illegible] for him, [illegible] despatches [illegible] to be believed. The [illegible] by Volney against the validity of the new Constitution, it appears, is to be sustained by the Investigating Committee, who will declare in their report in favor of the Constitution of 1868; but then, by another turn of affairs, Volney himself, who so far as we can judge, has set the whole thing in motion, is to be ruled out and Brooks, of blessed memory, is to be pronounced the lawful Governor of all Arkansas. It will be recollected that Brooks was the Conservative and Baxter the Republican candidate two years ago, and both claimed to have been elected. Baxter held the place, however. Smith was on the same ticket with Baxter, and claimed that, upon the abdication of the latter, he as Lieutenant Governor, became Governor. But now the committee propose to report against the Baxter ticket, and let in Brooks, who, by the way, has come to be a Republican while Baxter has gone to the Conservatives. If any of the fraudulent crew are to be let in, we don't see why Volney should not be. As a fellow Webfoot we sympathize with Volney.

TWO "GLORY AND HONOR" CANDIDATES.

Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, who has just been elected to the Governorship of New York, is strongly recommended for the Democratic nomination for the next Presidency. Gov. Allen, of Ohio, had already been brought forward, in the West for the same high honor. Either of these two eminent gentlemen would "fill the bill." They are both gentlemen of the highest moral worth, intellectual capacity and of invariable fidelity to Democratic principles. We mean the "Democratic principles" as they were understood before the war, in the good old times when the Democracy directed the destinies of the Republic and maintained its honor and glory at home and abroad.

The above we clip from a Southern paper of great influence. We should hope better things of the "Democratic principles" that would control the destinies of this country if the Democratic party should elect a President, than that they would be "as they were understood [illegible]." The way in which the [illegible] and glory of [illegible] was maintained at home and abroad in the "good old Democratic times" has not been admired so generally as this writer would have us believe. In fact it was so very singular in [illegible] respects that a great many intelligent [illegible] were and still are entirely unable to see where the honor and glory came in. If Tilden and Allen are such Democrats as they are here declared to be, the less stock the people take in their aspirations to the Presidency the better for the people.

The New York Herald gives another exhibit of its enterprise. Accompanying a translation of an article from Dr. Peterman on the recent [illegible] expedition to the North Pole, the Herald has two maps showing all the localities visited by the expedition, and their geographical relation to the lands with which the world is familiar.

The sudden death of Mayor Havemeyer of New York is announced. The Mayor has been for many years a prominent man among the Gothamites, and albeit he has been the target of a great deal of political sharp shooting of late, he will be [illegible] by the people among whom he has moved so long.

Unless further skirmishing shall [illegible] further postponement, the civil case of Tilton vs. Beecher will come on for trial next Monday.

THE CANADIAN RECIPROCITY TREATY.

On the 18th of November the Manufacturing Chemists' Association of the United States, representing over $50,000,000 capital, held their semi-annual meeting at the Astor House in New York, when, among other proceedings, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has been brought to the notice of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association of the United States that there has been transmitted to the Senate a copy of a proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada, and whereas the provisions, in the opinion of this Association, are inimical to the best interests of our [illegible] and to the revenue of the Government; therefore be it

Resolved, That a knowledge of the foregoing treaty has filled us with alarm at the consequences which are likely to result to the productive industries of the country.

Resolved, That this alarm arises not alone from the fear of Canadian competition, but as well from the apprehension that Canada will, by the provisions of this treaty, become the great entrepot for the reception of goods from all parts of the world to be legally smuggled into the United States.

Resolved, That this treaty inaugurates free trade in its most obnoxious form; and if the principle is followed up and applied in both countries, it may involve the necessity of [illegible] the entire revenue of the Government by internal taxation.

Resolved, That, as well from the foregoing considerations as from the fact that the negotiation of such treaties by the Executive Department and the Senate, involving the control over the collection of revenue from foreign imports, is manifestly an interference with one of the highest prerogatives of the House of Representatives, we are uncompromisingly opposed to it and to all others of like character.

Resolved, That these resolutions be printed, and that copies of them be given to each member of this association sufficient for his distribution to the Senators of his State at Washington, accompanied by such earnest individual protests as he may desire to make against the ratification of said treaty.

The Daily Oregonian.

[illegible] MORNING, DECEMBER 1, 1874.

CITY.

[illegible]—Allusion was made in yes terday's issue concerning a case of alleged [illegible] which transpired in East Portland. On complaint of Jack Harris yesterday, John DeHorst, Henry Stromer and his wife, Annie Stromer, all of East Portland, were arrested by Officers McCoy and Brannan. DeHorst is charged with having committed a rape on the person of Miss Ada Harris, daughter of the complainant, a girl aged about 16 years. Annie Stromer is charged with having been an accomplice in the commission of the crime. Her husband is also charged with being instrumental in the disgrace of the young lady. These parties were brought before Judge Denny yesterday afternoon. DeHorst was held to appear in Police Court this morning in the sum of $1,000, and Mr. and Mrs. Stromer each in the sum of $500. None of the parties were able to furnish bonds, and were committed to jail until this morning. At 10 [illegible] the case will take place. We have interviewed the accuser and accused, and learned both versions of this shameful affair. Before giving any of the circumstances we prefer to wait and hear the evidence which the examination will elicit.

QUICK PASSAGE.—The bark Portland, which [illegible] at this port on Sunday morning, made perhaps the quickest passage on record between San Francisco and Portland. The Portland left San F[illegible] the same day that the Orphanee and Carrie [illegible] sailed. She arrived off the bar the third day out, reaching there forty-eight hours [illegible] the steamers. This, so far as we have been able to learn, is the quickest [illegible] yet accomplished by any sailing vessel. The bark [illegible] sailed from San Francisco fifteen days before the Portland, and the latter vessel crossed the bar first. The quick passage is not so much attributable to the superior sailing qualities of the Portland—although she is regarded as a good sailer—as the splendid weather encountered. From the [illegible] the vessel emerged from the Golden Gate until the bar was sighted, a strong [illegible] breeze was experienced, which wafted her along at a very rapid rate. Three days from port to port is considered good time for the [illegible] and six to eight days for sailing vessels. Until some other coaster makes better time the Portland is entitled to [illegible]

WOOD THIEVES.—A few days since a gentleman residing near the corner of Seventh and Alder streets, purchased a cord of hard wood. The wood was delivered at his house, piled up along the sidewalk. Sometime during the following night the gentleman [illegible] from slumber, by the companion of his [illegible] who declared that she heard a noise [illegible] the direction of the pile of wood, and believed that some person was stealing it. The husband laughed at the idea, and turning over, was soon reveling in dreamland. Judge of his surprise and chagrin when, on [illegible] morning, to find that his wife's [illegible] were [illegible]. During the night some obliging person or persons had carried away [illegible] of the wood. There were [illegible] about the pile of wood, and his supposition is that several [illegible] engaged in the work, and [illegible] away—carrying away a [illegible] [illegible] From this it would [illegible] [illegible] no exempt from thieving [illegible] are not excepted.

[illegible]—During the month just passed, the following arrests have been made by the police force, classified as follows: Drunk and disorderly, [illegible]; discharging fire-arms within the city limits, [illegible]; simple assault, [illegible]; assault [illegible] with a dangerous weapon, [illegible]; violating [illegible] ordinance, [illegible]; indecent exposure, [illegible]; violating ordinance [illegible]; [illegible] a ship, 1; threatening to commit a breach of the peace, [illegible]. Total arrests, [illegible]. [illegible] lodgings [illegible] found [illegible] about the streets, [illegible] on their way to [illegible] night in the city jail.

LIVELY.—Still the matrimonial market continues lively, with no indications of abatement. [illegible] being near at hand, we shall [illegible] to see a decided acceleration in the market the present month. There [illegible] young ladies of this community [illegible] presents to give away, and who [illegible] ladies who are willing to be the [illegible] of such gifts, that matrimonial [illegible] relations will doubtless be of al[illegible] [illegible]. During November [illegible] have been issued by the [illegible], and Mr. Story confidently affirms he could have furnished double that [illegible] documents just as easily.

[illegible] ELECTION.—Last Saturday the members of [illegible] Sauvie's Island, Grange, No. [illegible] their annual election. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: [illegible] John M. McIntire; Overseer, John S. [illegible]; Lecturer, T. D. Jewett; Steward, R. [illegible]; Assistant Steward, E. Winkler; [illegible] James Hullett; Treasurer, [illegible] Musgrove; Secretary, Sister M. Bonser; [illegible] Sister Margaret Bonser; Pomona, Sister [illegible]; Flora, Sister A. M. McIntire; Lady Assistant Steward, Sister Sarah L. McIntire; [illegible] Hilton Bonser.

OFFICIAL REQUEST.—In the last number of the [illegible] Sentinel we find the following official [illegible] from Archbishop F. N. Blanchet: [illegible] the 8th of December next being the [illegible] of the consecration of our Archdiocese [illegible] Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, and [illegible] of the Patroness of these United [illegible] [illegible] our clergy to celebrate it [illegible] solemnity possible, and to renew [illegible] to the Most Sacred Heart of [illegible] that morning or evening service. A plenary indulgence is granted with [illegible]

[illegible] LECTURE.—This evening Rev. M. May will [illegible] a lecture at Museum Hall, [illegible] advisable to educate [illegible] America, for the purpose of the [illegible] question. The Doctor will assume [illegible] question. The lecturer is a fine scholar and an able speaker. His position [illegible] he proposes to [illegible] will call [illegible] original thoughts, which all would do well to hear. A full hall may be [illegible]

[illegible] attention is directed to [illegible] the Pacific Wharf Company in the appropriate column. As will be [illegible] now ready to accommodate [illegible] [illegible] live or dead, and [illegible] on storage, in their capacious [illegible] house, merchandise and produce at low rates. They propose to make liberal cash advances on grain stored in large quantities in [illegible]

[illegible] APPLES.—Says the Salt Lake Tribune [illegible] date: "In the course of events we [illegible] be united to Oregon by iron [illegible] and as the [illegible] have taken possession [illegible] orchards, it is pleasant to know [illegible] supply of this noble fruit will come [illegible]. They have some on exhibition down in California, called the glor[illegible] [illegible] weighing two pounds, exclusive of their [illegible]

[illegible] SOCIETY.—Last Sunday a Society bearing this name was organized in this city for the purpose of delivering lectures during the winter. It is a Jewish Society, having the following officers: President, I. S. Rosenthal; Vice-President, Lehman Blum; Secretary, [illegible] Simon; Treasurer, Simon Harris. [illegible] lecture will be delivered during the [illegible] part of the present month.

[illegible]—For several days past the rudder of the railroad ferry boat has been disabled, [illegible] the management of the boat a very difficult task for the pilot. Yesterday forenoon the ferry boat was beached just below the foot of G street, where the necessary repairs will be made. Meantime the steamer [illegible] will do temporary service.

FAIR AND SUPPER.—There will be a Fair and [illegible] given by the Woman's Guild of St. David's Parish, East Portland, at Odd Fellows' [illegible] [illegible]day evening, Dec. 3, 1874, commencing at 7 o'clock P. M. Admission, 25 [illegible] supper, 50 cents. All are cordially invited to attend.

GRANGE MARKET.—All preliminary arrangements having been effected by the Grange Market Company, Bunnell's City Market will be thrown open to-day. In a few days the market will be in full blast. An abundance of all kinds of meat will be kept constantly on hand.

LECTURE.—General O. O. Howard will lecture at the Congregational church on Tuesday evening, December 8th. The subject is "Sherman's March to the Sea." No doubt the attendance on the occasion will be large, as the General is a most interesting lecturer.

IN PROBATE.—On Saturday the following order in vacation was made by Judge Woodward: In the matter of the guardianship of Fred. A. and Emma Schoppel an order was made allowing the guardian of said minors to loan money on good real estate security.

GUSSIE TELFAIR.—This steamer did not sail yesterday as was intended, but will probably take her departure for Sitka to-day. The detention is owing to some needed repairs which had to be made to the Telfair's machinery. She will carry hence a very full freight.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of the Baptist Church will unite with Rev. D. J. Pierce and lady in a social entertainment on this (Tuesday) evening, at the Parsonage, to which friends, acquaintances and the community are cordially invited.

REAL ESTATE.—[illegible] Kilbourn sold at auction [illegible] since the property belonging to the estate of W. E. Cooper, deceased, for the sum of $9,600. This is regarded as a handsome price, considering the condition of the real estate market.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE KRAENSHEN.—The customary monthly social [illegible] at Turner's Hall took place last evening. Of this we cannot but repeat what we have said of like affairs which have taken place at the hall of the Society: that it was a social affair throughout, as all took an interest in the pleasures of the evening. Lunch was served shortly after eleven o'clock, of which [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Crawell's benefit at Oro Fino Theater, last evening, was quite complimentary to that pains-taking member of the dramatic company. "The Lady of Lyons" was presented in an acceptable manner, each person in the cast striving to be perfect. Following the play came an olio, in which Miss Morgan and Messrs. Gunning and Barrows appeared, the latter making a hit in the serio-comic ballad of Brown, the tragedian. "Othello" will be produced this evening, and Mr. LeRoy's adaptation will be presented for the first time tomorrow night. This is the last week of the season. Mrs. Phelps will take a benefit on Friday evening.

GRAND CONCERT.—Under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of Trinity Church a grand Vocal and Instrumental concert will be given at Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening, December [illegible]. A number of the leading amateur musicians of the city have kindly volunteered their services, and will appear on the occasion. Among those who have tendered their services we note the Portland Amateur Orchestra, consisting of sixteen performers under the leadership of Mr. S. Harris; the Amphion Quartette Club, Professor M. C. Kay, the talented violinist, and other well known musicians of the city. It is the intention to present an occasion in question a programme of [illegible] able excellence. Admission, $1. To [illegible] the box office will be open at 9 o'clock at No. 77 First street, and continue open for each successive day until the 9th inst. Persons who desire to secure reserved seats can do so by calling on Mr. DePrans on any day between the 2d and 9th of December, [illegible] price. Those who defer reserving seats until the 9th will have to pay 25 cents extra, and those who attend the concert without having reserved seats at all will be charged $1.25 for admission. [illegible] this in mind, and engage seats at once, for by doing so you will have nothing extra to pay.

PERSONAL.

Hon. [illegible] Collector at Astoria, is paying Portland a visit.

Hon. Wilson Bowlby is visiting the city. We are pleased to see him looking in the finest [illegible]

Colonel Dudley Evans had a severe attack of illness about one week ago. We are gratified to announce that he is able to take his accustomed place behind the counter of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office.

[illegible] traveling agent and correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, gave us a call yesterday. He has just returned from a trip through Idaho and Eastern Oregon, and will now commence to make a thorough canvass of the city in the interest of the paper he represents.

From the Arizona Miner of a recent date we learn that First Lieutenant James Halloran, of Company K (Twelfth Infantry) has been transferred to Company [illegible]. Lieutenant Halloran is [illegible] and well known in this city and State. Years ago he was a type on the OREGONIAN, and subsequently owned an interest in the Dalles Mountaineer.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

MONDAY, Nov. 30, 1874.

Minerva A. Woodcock vs Henry Woodcock; divorce case; cause on trial.

Halpruner and Schwendell take pleasure to notify the public in general that they will introduce a plain quadrille which is danced all over the world without a prompter. We therefore most respectfully solicit all lovers of dancing who are in favor of refinement and improvement, to spend a Friday evening with us at our Dancing Academy.

That lot 25 by 200, between Front and First and Salmon and Main streets, which DeLashmutt & Oatman are offering for $2,625, is certainly a bargain. It is only one case out of many where the fire took the man's all, and, consequently, he is compelled to sell.

Why go about in an old suit when you can obtain an A No. 1 article suitable for even Sunday at an extraordinary low figure. Beck & Waldman are making most excellent inducements to purchasers.

The new brands of cigars at O'Brien's are justly admired. Try one and you'll be sure to want more.

Magoon's hack stand is at Fishel & Roberts' corner.

The Ladies' Class at Halpruner & Schwendell's Academy will meet this evening.

FOR THE LADIES.

The apron front prevails in all overskirts.

[illegible] wear the French gray felt hat, [illegible] plume.

Bonnets [illegible] more than ever as the fashion [illegible]

Very fine plaiting (called knife plaiting) is a popular mode just now.

How ridiculous that false hair should go out of fashion, now that bald heads are out of fashion, too.

Black silk suits, worn over velvet skirts, with sleeves and collar of velvet, are fashionable in Paris.

Much of the trimming of street suits is concentrated on the apron front—the objective point, you know.

"Plaids, plaids, plaids," sighs Miss McFlimsey—"nothing but plaids this winter, and I can't afford one."

Jet ornaments of all kinds appear to be as universally fashionable as ever. The real jet is as expensive as ever.

The curious polonaise is destined to become generally popular. It is rather a stylish garment, save on stout people.

The "halo" brim-shape bonnet is very popular. Five years ago a lady would not have dared to don such headgear.

There is quite a rage for Chinese and Japanese ornaments. The new fashion gold [illegible] earrings [illegible] exceedingly pretty.

Cardinal red is one of the favorite colors; [illegible] The cardinal red is extensively introduced on black velvet bonnets.

Modistes are becoming alarmed. So many ladies are making their own dresses! What shall we do? Lower your prices, mesdames.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

See card of R. Dinsmore, broker, in the new advertising column.

The Oregon Steamship Company have reduced the tariff on freights to Corvallis down $1 per ton, as per advertisement.

Mr. C. M. Wintzingerode has a complete stock of stationery, periodicals, etc., at his store next to the Gas Company's office. Call and see him.

Louis Fan, a practical optician and manufacturer of mathematical and telegraphic instruments, can always be found at his old stand, No. 66 First street.

L. & H. Wertheimer, of San Francisco, announce that they have the sole agency for the Pacific coast of the celebrated "Universal" [illegible] Read their card.

Winter is coming on, and for nice, comfortable suits, go to Rubinstein & Gutmann, No. 58 First street, who will be happy to furnish you with the desired articles cheap.

Before making your holiday purchases, call and examine the stock of J. K. Gill & Co. Their large stock embraces everything usually found in a book and stationery establishment. Read his advertisement.

The Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, a branch of which has been established in this city for almost four years past, is gaining daily in strength and popularity. We refer to their card elsewhere, and commend the Company to the attention of those insuring. Mr. Edward Hall is the agent, Front street.

MILITARY NOTES.

Major and Paymaster Joseph H. Eaton, Chief Paymaster, will pay the troops at the military post of Sitka, Alaska Territory, to include the muster of October 31, 1874. Major Eaton is authorized to travel under this order via Tacoma and Port Townsend, to and returning from Sitka.

A Board of Survey to consist of Major John Green, 1st Cavalry, Captain E. V. Sumner, 1st Cavalry and 1st Lieut. Wm. H. Boyle, 21st Infantry, will assemble at Vancouver Arsenal, W. T., [illegible] A. M., the 1st, (to-day) or as soon thereafter as practicable, to examine and report the quality and condition of the horse shoes on hand at the Arsenal [illegible] for issue. The junior member of the Board will act as Recorder.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

To-morrow evening the City Rifles will give a complimentary party at their Armory, to which numerous invitations have been extended their friends. The following are the committees: Arrangements, H. McCracken, J. O'Connor, W. Church, H. D. Chapman; Reception, Capt. G. G. Phillips, Lieut. H. D. Chapman, Lieut. J. M. Birmingham. Floor, James Bowling, [illegible] Wright, Wm. A. Hart. No gentleman admitted unaccompanied by a lady. An enjoyable time may be anticipated.

[illegible] added to the Museum of late, are of great interest.

A few thousand dollars can be had either on personal or real security, of DeLASHMUTT & OATMAN, Brokers.

[illegible] The season for parties and balls has arrived, and the cold, dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy, for that matter, likes to present a decent appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nice, closely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either, when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

[illegible] Fielding [illegible] made specialties of irony and sarcasm in all his writings, but JOHN O'NEIL & CO. make specialties of selling the finest clothing, underwear, cravats, ties and hats at unparalleled low prices. [illegible] winter [illegible] yourself dressed and be at rest. This is not irony or sarcasm, but [illegible] who goes to their store. Naked truth is good, but people can't go about in that way and must have clothing, and [illegible] supplies received by this firm [illegible] just what are [illegible]

No Stock [illegible] Wonder has stood the test of time, as the cure for rheumatic and other pains, as well as colds, coughs, cramps, &c. Taken with Wonder Pills for liver complaints, kidney disorders and impure blood. For sale everywhere.

The first act of Napoleon the 3d did, before [illegible] Turkish Independence from Russian encroachments, was to have his army well and generously fed. They were then [illegible] When the stomach is all right one feels like a man. The use of PLANTATION [illegible] cures, that the [illegible] million bottles per year, and everywhere it retains its popularity.

Missouri.—It is a little singular that this State which bore such an important part in the national controversy, which resulted in our civil war, and the extinguishment of slavery in the United States, should be the birth-place of the great national remedy known as the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. This embrocation produced national discussion, and has extinguished, in all who use it, the pains and agonies to which the human and brute creation are subject. For diseases among horses and cattle it was the universal remedy throughout the Western and Southern States, and it has now reached the entire country, where it is as popular as it is in those States. All druggists keep it.

Rejuvenated.—For nearly a quarter of a century "LYON'S KATHAIRON" has been winning its way into popularity. It is composed of ingredients, which add strength and vitality to the hair-producing ducts, and its history may be summed up in Caesar's expression when he crossed the Rubicon: "Veni, Vidi, Vici." I came, saw and conquered. It took the place of the miserable unguents which had weakened the fibres of hair and clogged their roots, and imparted vigor to the scalp, cleanliness to the head and gloss to the locks. It retains its place in millions of homes, as the great rejuvenator of the hair.

"How [illegible] back the days of my power?" was once asked by a fading belle. Around her once gathered the wealth of fashion. Her beauty had declined and she was neglected. A friend recommended the use of HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM. She used it and almost as speedily as if Aladdin's touch had transformed her, she regained her healthy complexion, and was surrounded by admiring beaux. She had grown wiser and less coquettish, and now lives happily, the beloved center of a happy group.

NEVER GIVE UP.

If all the cases in which HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR has cured inveterate and apparently fatal coughs, could be made known, every consumptive in the land would take heart and commence, in hope, a course of this most wonderful preparation. Physicians who have exhausted their list of pulmonics, without benefit, recommend it as a last resort, and even in the worst extremity its effects are astonishing. But it should be the first resort, not the last. It is impossible for any disease tending to consumption to retain its hold, if met in the early stages with this powerful vegetable remedy.

PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute.

An Extended Popularity.—Each year finds "Brown's Bronchial Troches" in new localities in various parts of the world. For relieving Coughs, Colds and Throat diseases, the Troches have been proved reliable.

ELEPHANTS

HOW THESE ANIMALS ARE MULTIPLYING IN INDIA

The Pall Mall Gazette says Attention has been much drawn in the Madras Presidency of late, to the increasing number of wild elephants in uncleared districts and the devastation caused by their incursions into the cultivated area Great discontent has been created in Travancore by the protection afforded to these animals by the native administrator in charge of the Rajah's dominions Sir Madava Row who has forbidden their slaughter under such severe penalties that in several cases the villagers have suffered loss of life without daring to retaliate In a recent instance a Mahommedan villager at Ottacal was trampled to death in his own hut by one of the huge beasts who attacked it or broke through it in a panic but in the southeastern part of Mysore bordering on the elevated range known as the Beligirirungum Hills where the extent of cultivation on the rich plains adjacent has been absolutely receding before the devastations of these herds, we read of a very decisive check being inflicted on their ravages through the exertions of Mr Sanderson the Superintendent of Canals for the district

This gentleman appears to have studied to some purpose the process long used for the capture of Ceylon elephants by gradually hemming them into a kraal or enclosure and as far as we can judge from the accounts in the Madras papers, has imitated it with remarkable success Having procured the assent of the chief Commissioner Sir R Meade and the assistance of the best sportsmen near he set deliberately to work to prepare a sort of trap fifteen acres in extent in the bed of the Honhole river using the perpendicular sides of the channel drawn from it for most of the enclosure Into this a large herd was driven by the sportsmen assisted by bands of villagers. Once confined they were fed, and prevented from breaking out at the weak points by day by watchmen and by night by large fires a similar timber enclosure was carefully prepared at one angle and the herd finally forced into it, with the loss of only one, shot a large female which was apparently determined that her calf should not be entrapped

A gate of large trees cut away and dropped behind now closed the opening and it was found that over fifty of the interesting strangers were thus netted. The application of the usual subduing process of starvation, and the loan of a party of the Rajah's tame elephants by that prince's guardian, Col Malleson, did the rest, and the captives were successfully being tamed separately at last accounts As it is calculated that the sale of the booty to the commissariat department or to native princes will more than recoup the outlay, and that the villagers of the district, as well as the Government—which has lately had to reduce their taxes in consideration of the damages—will alike profit, and all parties have reason to be satisfied and Mr Sanderson is reported to be now turning his attention to two other herds known to be in the vicinity of the Beligirirungam hills

A VIRGINIA INCIDENT

[From the Charlottesville (Va) Chronicle]

Old Mark Kailer was a citizen of Augusta county and it has not been a decade since he emigrated to the "undiscovered country" Mark was somewhat eccentric, as an evidence of which we may state that he procured his second wife by purchase for the extravagant sum of $5 and was married in a full suit of red flannel. The money, for the spouse was paid to the agent who did the courting and not to the fair dame, who gave herself up 'without money and without price.' As may be readily imagined, Mrs Kailer was the most exemplary of wives, and a brief acquaintance demonstrated the fact that she was as fond of the bottle as [illegible] himself The couple in this particular were well mated, and lived many years together with great satisfaction and [illegible] harmony One summer day, however, the old man was made a widower in a startling manner. The couple started on foot for the county seat, and Mark, being more active than the old lady, had advanced considerably ahead The madam trudged along [illegible], smoking her pipe, when, by some means, her clothing caught fire, and she was burned there in the public road literally to a crisp Two gentlemen on horseback, on their way to Staunton, came suddenly upon the roasted body of the poor creature, and were horrified at the ghastly spectacle. One of them rode ahead, and overtaking the old man informed him of the terrible occurrence Mark exhibited no emotion, but, turning around with a grunt, retraced his steps and soon reached the scene of the terrible catastrophe There lay the blackened corpse of his wife so charred and disfigured as scarcely to be recognized. Mark walked with a cane, and hobbling up to the body he gave it a punch or so with the stick standing over it in a half bent posture. After surveying it he paid the following eloquent and pathetic tribute to the memory of the deceased

'Humph' I told her she'd better leave her pipe at home! Now what'll I do for a housekeeper'

The above facts are literally true, and were detailed to us by a gentleman whose eyes beheld the affecting scene, and whose ears heard the touching apostrophe

LOVE'S REVENGE

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

Some five or six weeks ago a young man named Charles Parrin, 23 years old, and a carpenter by trade fell in love with a good looking girl whose parents live on Orchard street Charles has red hair and a freckled face and although the young lady treated him courteously when he called at the house, she had her mind made up that she could never wed a red haired man After an acquaintance of three weeks he asked her to become Mrs Parrin, and was gently taken down when she told him she couldn't think of such a thing Charles then sought to have the old folks put in a good word for him but they declined to interfere He continued his visits, perhaps hoping to soften the girl's heart, but Thursday evening the crisis came He went to the house with a bottle of acid in his pocket, prepared to spoil her beauty if she did not give him a favorable answer There was no one at home but the girl and her mother and Parrin first wanted the girl to take a walk with him She refused to go and he asked to see her [illegible]. She also refused this request and the lover had just got ready to draw the bottle from his pocket when something bit him He thought it was a dog but it wasn't. The cork had worked out of the bottle, and his coat-tails were turning brick color at the rate of a yard a minute The acid wasn't content with the coat-tails but struck out for flesh and in about a minute the young man was dancing around the house as if to escape a bullet Shouting and whooping he got out of doors and threw off most of his clothing and rolled in the mud and it was some time before any one could find out whether he had snakes in his boots or had sat down on a brad awl He was so badly burned that two men had to help him to his boarding house on Fifth street, where a physician dressed the burns There is a good deal of laughter at his expense and if he makes his appearance at the house again he will be arrested as he told one of his friends in advance that he meant the acid for the girl

CHANCELLOR WALWORTH'S HORSE.—He was very fond of riding He enjoyed a mettlesome animal and loved to bring such a one up to face a band of music, or the puffing of a locomotive The old villagers will remember well a sorrel horse named 'Araby,' which he bestrode for many years, and was at the time he purchased him, in 1834 or thereabouts a perfect model of life and beauty They will also remember a riding suit of homespun not differing much from the horse in color Both horse and homespun grew old in service and gave him finally very much the appearance of a country farmer on a plow horse Mounted on this animal once of a summer morning, and waiting at the Congress spring for a dipper boy to bring him his glass of water he attracted the attention of a wealthy and dashing gentleman who was standing by with a party of friends 'Wait a moment' said the gentleman with a wink while I quiz this old farmer' and then advancing with much gravity he began to question the Chancellor in regard to his horse asking what he would take for his colt what speed was in him whether his sight was good etc., all of which questions were answered with great good humor On returning to his own party one of them said Well, Colonel what do you think of the Chancellor and his horse?' 'Chancellor!' he said in amazement 'Chancellor who?' 'Why Chancellor Walworth, didn't you know him?' 'Oh my God' said he 'I'm in the devil's own luck this morning Confound my impudence! I've a suit in that man's court for a hundred thousand dollars —From Reminiscences in the Saratogian

Latest Liverpool advices denote a quiet market Pacific coast wheat ranged from 9s 11d 10s 1d for average and 10s 4d @10s 10d for club per cental The London market is quoted at 51s [illegible] quarter for average quality just shipped and 1s per quarter for average near a due at Queenstown

The close of the month finds our local money market very nearly in the same condition as it was at its opening for while the heavy disbursements by grain buyers have been going on the additions to our local capital by outside aid have helped with the medium volume of remittances from the interior to maintain a very comfortable state of equilibrium in monetary circles and while there is a close condition of affairs prevalent the supply of available funds is not seriously inadequate to the strict requirements of legitimate business The care with which our local banking institutions have been managed have also contributed largely to prevent the severe stringency under which nearly all branches of trade were depressed at a corresponding date in 1873

Collections to-day are reported to be fair some say easier than last month while others still murmur about the dullness. It is impossible to arrive at the condition of the money market from the opinions of street collectors as each one tells a different story according as he has been fortunate in soliciting of those who are in funds or otherwise A better criterion is the ease with which good commercial paper is discounted or loans negotiated and from this statement we do not doubt that while money is closer than it was three months ago there is a vast improvement in the market over its condition at a corresponding date last year

Telegrams from the East inform us that the Treasury Department will continue the gold sales during December half a million dollars being ordered sold on each Thursday of the month or $2,000,000 in all There is much less talk as to what the next Congress soon to assemble will do with the currency question than preceded the last session of that body, which did nothing materially affecting the status of the Government upon this subject. It is not probable that the coming session will accomplish any fundamental changes, though there are those who predict that some definite plan for the resumption of specie payments at no very distant day will be adopted We shall see

The appearance of matters in general trade circles to-day indicates a very auspicious opening for the week and should the business of succeeding days be as much more brisk than Monday as usual there will be no reason to complain of a lack of activity Prices for staple articles of merchandise are steady, with greater firmness in groceries especially coffees which are reported to have advanced 1 cent per pound in San Francisco with still an upward tendency.

The jobbing trade in holiday goods opened fairly to-day and promises to be active during the week Many of our merchants are well stocked with goods in this line, and dealers from the interior will find it to their advantage to examine the Portland market before going out of the State for supplies

The Wheat Trade.

We find that matters in this department have changed but little since last week Receipts by boat are still very heavy and offers are reported free at current rates. During the month now closing the number of vessels clearing with wheat and flour for Europe has been 16, with cargoes in the aggregate of 506,419 bushels of wheat and 24 474 barrels of flour against nine vessels in November, 1873 with 306,758 bushels wheat and 7 038 barrels flour, being an increase this year over the same month last of 199,661 bushels wheat and 17 436 barrels flour. But owing to the much lower price which has prevailed this season, the increase in value does not make such a favorable showing for 1874 The shipments this year are valued at $635 264 34 for the month, while those of November last year were invoiced at $421 186, the increase in value being about 25 per cent, and the increase in quantity about 42 per cent.

Our market to-day shows no signs of appreciation, buyers having settled on $1 35 per cental beyond which they are not disposed to go for any quality. The vessels loading are well supplied and have very quick dispatch The Roslin Castle which cleared to-day makes the 16th vessel including one, the Prince Charlie which loaded at Astoria, which have cleared since the 1st of November while several others including the large ship F N Thayer, also at Astoria are nearly ready to go to sea. The despatch which vessels have had since the season fairly begun is one of the few encouraging features of the trade this year and will have its effect in the future to our advantage as a port.

There are some vessels here and others reported in the river which are said to be on the market for charters, but it is a difficult matter to ascertain at what figure they are held That they will be compelled to accept low rates is admitted but their agents and owners are disposed to feel the tonnage market a while before closing with current offers

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamer from San Francisco, which would have been due to morrow night is not announced to have sailed yet. She will probably not sail until to-morrow, bringing her due on Saturday

The bark Roslin Castle went down the river to-day with her cargo of grain complete

The steamship Gussie Telfair sailed for Sitka and intermediate ports this evening

The bark Cordova and the ship Windward are reported aground on the sand spit opposite Fort Stevens owing to mismanagement of some one in attempting to bring them over the bar The Cordova is consigned to Rodgers, Meyer & Co and the Windward to E. E. Morgan's Sons

The Limari and Clan Macleod being loaded by the Salem Milling Co., are at Barnard's wharf

Hewett & Co are rapidly filling up the bark Globe at Greenwich docks will clear her the latter part of this week

The bark Reindeer will haul alongside the dock to-morrow and begin to discharge her ballast

This port loaded on an average one vessel every two days the past month, with grain for Europe

Twenty-eight vessels have left this port for Europe with grain and flour so far the present season Sixteen sailed in November, against 9 in October and 4 in September, this season and 9 in November 2 in October and 4 in September last year The clearances of grain vessels in December last year, were 6 in number, and 12 in January 1874

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives Sarsaparilla Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting It purifies the blood purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ or organs whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood When they are gone the disorders they produce disappear such as Ulcerations of the Liver Stomach Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin St Anthony's Fire Rose or Erysipelas Pimples Pustules Blotches Boils Tumors Tetter and Salt Rheum Scald Head Ringworm Ulcers and Sores Rheumatism Neuralgia Pain in the Bones Side and Head Female weakness Sterility Leucorrhoea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease Dropsy Dyspepsia Emaciation and General Debility With their departure health returns
